“ I could publish a novel based upon all of the memories I have, and how I feel about this amazing lady. She is my best friend. My soul mate on a platonic level. The roadtrips we went on with RT Nation. All of our vacations together. Trips to many different beaches. Halloween Horror Nights, Howl O Scream. Our many morning coffee chats. I am so lucky to have been able to go on many adventures with her. I have an extended family because of her: Bert, Holly, David, Jesse, Dillon, Ann, and Frank. I am blessed more than I deserve, because of Tish. Fly high Boo, you were one of a kind. Don't forget to throw me a rope ❤️

“ When I first met Tish it was clear that she was smarter than I was, I was her boss and yet she was the boss. Tish had her mind made up before I even asked her to get something done and she was doing it her way, and thank God because it was always the best way. My memory of Tish is more of my opinion, Tish was and always be to me one of the best people I have ever met, her undying energy and heart for others will truly be missed. Tish touched lives just by being herself. I will miss you dearly my friend.....Mark

I had the honor of calling Tish my friend. She was by far one of the best people I have ever known. To know Tish was to love Tish. She had the biggest heart of anybody I have ever known. I have so many precious memories of things we did together and places we went. Tish, you had such a big heart. You will always hold a very special place in my heart. I love you and I sure am going to miss you. Even though you lived in Florida and I was in Ky I always knew you were only a phone call away. Until we meet again....
