

Alice Liss Barlam

February 10, 2006

Alice Liss Barlam, 87, of Millville died on February 10, 2006 at home. Born in Port Norris, she was the daughter of the late Joseph and Carrie (Shaw) Lake and has lived in Millville for the past 57 years. She was a descendent of Simon Lake who invented the submarine and of the Methodist Family Ministers who founded Ocean City, NJ. Mrs. Barlam graduated from Methodist Hospital in Philadelphia as a registered nurse and also attended Glassboro State College and Trenton State College. She worked at the Millville Hospital for 13 years and in Philadelphia for another 6 years and then as a school nurse in Millville for 22 years retiring in 1985. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Millville and a retired member of the N.J.E.A. She is survived by her husband Paul J., her sons, William Joseph Liss of Arizona and Gregory Lake Liss of Maryland, a step-daughter, Linda Middleton of Delaware, her sisters, Roxanna Roe of Millville and Lois Jenkins of Dividing Creek, 4 grandchildren and 1 great grandson. She was predeceased by her husband William Liss in 1972 and a brother Joseph Lake Jr., in 1944. Service are private and at the convenience of the family. In lieu of flowers the family has requested that donations be made in Mrs. Barlam's memory to the SJ Hospice Care, 2848 S. Delsea Dr., Vineland, NJ 08360. South Jersey Cremation Services. Written condolences to www.AdamsFuneralHome.org

--