“ I'll always think of of Brian as one of my brothers. He was a great songwriter, musician and most of all FRIEND. We recorded some great music. And they were the highlight of my drumming years. Peace be with you my brother. And your family. "And the Angels sing, Freedom Song". From his great Freedom Song he wrote for the 9/11 tragedy. Peace

“ I will always remember him playing his guitar, singing. He seem to be on cloud 9 when he was performing. So many times when he was playing at a bar with Loren, Jon & Dave, I would try to work the sound board...yeah that never worked out. But he would always say it's ok, it's ok, you're doing great. Nope I was toned deaf. He never made me feel incompetent. What a great guy with a great smile. He will be missed.

Never witnessed or heard a negative comment in reference to anyone come from his being in all my life as his big brother... Thanks so much...

Never in my life with my brother, did I witness or hear him speak negatively of or to anyone. He had a heart of gold, that shined brightest while playing his music. Although our lives selfishly dominated our time, I loved the moments we shared, and greatly respected the talent he possessed as a musician. My mother always talked about the success of her children as a gage of life, if that is true, Brian was the most successful man in the world, because he did what he loved, and loved what he did... "Stairway To Heaven" brother.....
