“ We met when we were about three or four years old, living down the block from one another in Philly. When you moved to NJ, we still kept in contact, I still have the letters you sent over the years as we grew up. I read them now and again, and get a good laugh at how life was back then. I would spend a week during the summer at your house in Blackwood, and you would come and spend a week with me in the city.

I think about you often, miss those letters and the fun we had before we became wives and moms. Our lives went in different directions but we still kept in contact at Xmas. When I moved here in 1996 and sent you a note, we were together once again, but having lunch here at our house.

After that we kept in touch on Facebook or notes, but unfortunately never got together again in person. I will always remember you as my first real friend, and how nice it was that we were able to stay friends for 70 years, though from a distance. Miss you my friend, always. xoxo

My condolences to your family. I just wanted to write something they may not have known about you.

“ I had the honor to know Carole since Blackwood School and also graduated Paulsboro High School with her. I remember a very bright and vivacious girl with many friends. I have had the honor to have been able to communicate with her by email and continue our friendship. She will be missed and is now at peace. GOD Bless the family and comfort them at this time. “ To The McCracken Family,
So sorry for your loss. I saw your mom in September on Daretown Day. It took her awhile to recognize me which is understandable since we haven't seen each other in years. She was enjoying the parade especially since she had a lawnchair to sit in and we didn't. May shared memories and prayers for strength help to comfort you at this time.
