

Carolyn Ruth Harding

January 6, 2017

Carolyn Ruth Harding, 69, of Monroeville, passed away on January 6, 2017. Born in Abington, PA to the late Warren Earl and Ruth Caroline (Noel) Hevener, Carolyn started out in the Overbrook section of Philadelphia, moving to the Williamstown area when she was young. She was a 1965 graduate of Williamstown High School and went on to study commercial art at the Philadelphia College of the Arts. Ultimately, she would settle down and raise her family in Monroeville. Carolyn was a member of the Friendship United Methodist Church and was also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star. She loved drawing as well as sewing and quilting.

Carolyn is survived by her loving husband of almost 40 years, Raymond A. Harding; her children, Raymond J. Harding (Rochelle) of Alloway, Ruthie Thibault (David W., Jr.) of Clayton and Paul W. Harding (Michelle) of Pole Tavern; and her grandchildren, Evan and Connor Harding, Christian and Noel Thibault and Jacob, Chase and Taylor Harding.

A memorial service to celebrate her life will be held on Saturday, January 21, 2017 at the Country Road Bible Church, 188 Husted Station Road, Pittsgrove, NJ 08318. There will be a time to come and greet the family from 10:30 AM to 12 PM followed by the service at 12 PM.

“ So sad to hear of Cousin Carol's passing. We were distant in miles, but I thought of her often. Carol was a kind soul and will be missed by many. My prayers are with her husband Ray, Sr and their Children and Grandchildren at this sad time. Love Debbie “ Carol was a long time friend. We Went to Atlantic City and Delaware Park together a few years back. She continued to go with her husband and mother in law until her health issues kept her from wanting to go. She is going to be missed by all who knew her. May God give comfort and strength to her family during this difficult time.
