“ My name is Ray Shellow and I'm a professional security officer at the DuPont Experimental Station contractors gate in Wilmington Delaware. My coworkers and I would meet Mr Don back in 2018. He would arrive daily driving his dump trucks for WJV contractors . He would make us laugh with stories. Then we would be introduced to his son Dan and His son JR. All are very fine people and treated us to this present day with the utmost professional class and respect. On behalf of the security team at DuPont and our families, your family will be in our continued prayers .
