“ *To Mrs Williams, Donna, Chris and Kathryn,
Though I never met Mr. Williams, I know how many memories you have of him and each of you realize the important part he played in your lives, contributing to who you are today. My father died at 92; we had our ups and downs, but today I look back so grateful to have been raised by a strong willed, opinionated, and sometimes selfish man who took pride in his family and fought for his beliefs. I realize, he is the reason I am determined and directed toward success. He instilled pride of country and the crisp line between right and wrong. He told me many times how much he loved me, how he appreciated me and how proud he was of me. I took those conversations for granted; today I cherish each conversation and many memories. I can only wish the same thoughts for you.
Im sending my heart felt sympathy for your loss. RIP Donald John Williams
