Born in London, England on July 24, 1925 to Edith and Herbert Charles, Hilda Edith Eisenbrey grew up outside of Belfast, Northern Ireland. After her schooling in Ireland, she trained as a nurse at the Royal Infirmary in Edinburgh, Scotland where she cared for soldiers during World War II. Later she met American soldier Eugene Eisenbrey whom she married in Port Stewart, Ireland as soon as the war was over in 1945. Hilda Eisenbrey came to the United States, became a citizen, and except for a brief period of time made Pittsgrove, NJ her new home.

Hilda also worked part-time outside the home as a maternity nurse in Elmer Hospital for many years. When her husband began his business, Eisenbrey Electric and Refrigeration, she acted as his business partner keeping the books, ordering supplies and answering phones. In addition to working, she still found the time to knit, embroider, sew all her daughters' clothes and mastered countless other crafts. She also unselfishly donated her time to Olivet School acting as a homeroom mother, PTA president, and leading Girl Scout Troops. She was a longtime active member of Friendship United Methodist Church. When relaxing, she enjoyed traveling, working in her flower gardens, baking desserts, and visiting with her grandchildren and great grandchildren.

She was the beloved wife of the late Eugene.
