“ I just sat down to write an email to Joan and thought, perhaps, I should check to see if she is still in New Jersey. I was very saddened to see she has passed away. We connected over 20 years ago while researching the Bradley family genealogy. Bradley was her mother's family name. We share many ancestors. She graciously invited myself, my mother, aunt and cousin to her home from the Eastern Shore to New Jersey, and we spent an enchanting afternoon sharing our research and telling numerous family stories. It was a day we reminisced about for years. I have since lost my mother and my aunt. I imagine they are all in heaven together and finally connected with all of the ancestors we never met. My condolences to her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. I noticed some old family names handed down (Thomas James, for one). She was a wonderful person and heaven is blessed to have her. I know you must all miss her so much.
