“ I was a first-year member of the New Castle Sailing Club last year and had the opportunity to text with Kevin many times. I met him in person on launch day when he was managing the centerboard eventually. I was shocked to learn of his passing upon returning from my 40-day worldwide ski trip after February 15. I wish I could have attended his memorial service. He was such a kind and generous person who shared some wonderful sailing stories with me. He will be deeply missed.
