August 4, 2010

Loretta M. Sauer, also known as "Gory", of Pennsville died peacefully surrounded by her family and friends on August 4th, 2010. She was 77. She was born November 23, 1932 in Carneys Point, NJ to Hugh J. and Elizabeth M. McGrory and lived her entire life in Salem County. In 1958, she and her husband Herman built their home in Pennsville where they raised their 4 children and hosted the family's "Saturday Night Live" for the last 40 years, extending warmth, wisdom and humor to all who came. In addition, at different times she provided a home to her niece Jeannie and her sister-in-law Theresa.

A devout Catholic all of her life, she was a member of Corpus Christi Church in Carneys Point where she served on Parish Council and as a Eucharistic minister and Lector. She was a member of the Salem County Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority for more than 50 years where friends became true sisters, many of whom came to visit and aid her in her final weeks at home. She loved the Phillies, gardening, travel and good conversation, where her wit evenly matched her warmth. She loved classical music and jazz, either of which could be heard from sunrise to bedtime at her home.
