October 8, 2014

Nancy Hitchner, 74, of Daretown passed away on October 8, 2014. Born in Bridgeton, Mrs. Hitchner was the daughter of the late Donald & Joyce McAllister. Fifty-four years ago, Nancy and Charles Hitchner would be paired up in a friends wedding party. Soon there after her friends husband asked Mr. Hitchner if he would be interested in double dating. A lifetime of togetherness began and wedding bells would soon ring. From that moment on Nancy and Charles Hitchner were inseparable. Even when he had a job driving vegetables and selling them in New York City twice a week, Mrs. Hitchner was right there with him enjoying every moment.

She would continue to be a member of the church she took her vows in, Pittsgrove Presbyterian. In addition, Mrs. Hitchner thoroughly enjoyed doing things for others, whether it was sewing, knitting or decorating a cake, especially for her grandkids, she would take her time and with much love do anything for anyone.

She is survived by her husband Charles, children, Beth Mitchell and her husband Stephen, Margaret DeMaris and her husband George, Charles and his wife Deborah and Cathy DeHart and her husband Michael; sisters, Phyllis Frey, Sallie Counsellor and Sue Angelo as well as nine grandchildren. In addition to her parents, a brother Clifford McAllister predeceased her.
