“ The very first department I was assigned to at JCP was lingerie. Not to mention my very first job in the retail market. Phyllis was the stock associate at that time.

She taught me everything there was to know about lingerie! I mean everything! Sizing, name brands, placement of the article on a hanger or table , placement of sale signs,the register, keeping the fitting rooms clean . And how to give good customer service! Over the years we developed a great working relationship. From time to time I would see her with her family at DiPaolo's Restaurant in NJ. Always had time to chat with me and remember the good ole days at JCP. Thank you for your friendship Phyllis I will keep you in my thoughts and prayers.
